by Andrew Rutter

NORTHSIDE promised much with his sire stack and cow family, and now daughters are delivering on Cornerstone farms.

Family Information

The Nuggets rate as one of the top breeding families in the UK. Developed by Richard Pilkington in his Aintree herd from North Wales, this family is rightly drawing global attention. The combination of type, strength, components and production in one package makes them a very special opportunity. The foundation cow, Sebastian Nugget has bred 21 Excellent and 37 VG female descendents already, and members that have gone on to other herds have performed excellently. NORTHSIDE was a promising calf and has developed into a real powerhouse of a bull, following the trend set on his maternal line.

Daughter Information

Daughters are well constructed, and built to last. Daughters are moderately sized as two year olds, and not too extreme, holding nice levels of condition through their lactations. Rumps are correctly made, with near perfect thurl placement and an ideal slope from hook to pins. Legs are on the straighter side, with tightly pasterned, deep heeled feet, and daughters track correctly. Udders are welded on, with deep clefts and set well above the hocks and fore udders are exceptional.

Mating Information

NORTHSIDE will cross well on Juror or Durham blood, such as DRAKE, ROY, GORDON as well as daughters of DIEHARD, JAMMER, HOMESTEAD and BURT
