By Mitch Amundson

If you're looking for a way to boost your herd's productivity, ALTIMA is the answer. With a pedigree like Encino x O Man x Durham x Jolt, it's no surprise why ALTIMA will put you in the fast lane. Not only will he get your cows pregnant, he will sire high component milk in extremely large quantities.

Family Information

The cow family behind ALTIMA first started generating interest from sire analysts with the 94 point Jolt daughter AJ. She drew lots of worldwide interest for being one of the earliest and highest scoring Jolt daughters in the world. She continued to develop from her 1st score as an 89-point 3-year old to Ex-94 2E as a 6-year old. She had 5 offspring classified with the lowest being a VG-85 bull and the highest being an EX-94 Durham daughter that earned the DOM designation. Multiple sons have entered studs over the years from this family with ABS sampling two. The grand dam of ALTIMA is one of two excellent Durham full sisters. ALTIMA's O Man dam was never flushed but Adora's full sister Altann developed nicely into a VG-88 DOM and sold embryos overseas. It is still early in this family's story from a bull perspective but if ALTIMA is any indication, good things are still to come.

Daughter Information

Tall and open is a great place to start when describing the ALTIMA daughters. They are deep, open-ribbed kind of cows which translates over to high scores in dairy form and big milk production. Large volumes of milk flow easily from the shallow uddered daughters of ALTIMA. The ALTIMA daughters move easily around commercial environments on sound feet and legs with steep foot angles.

Mating Information

ALTIMA should work well on SHOTTLE, Goldwyn, and Ramos bloodlines. He will be a good mating on daughters of JEEVES, ASHMORE, BOLIVER, BURT, JAMMER, HOMESTEAD, JUNIPER, MATSON, and PENNYMAKER.
